Our note about the Christian Mission special service procession of Sunday evening was somewhat erroneous in that we referred to a week's services whereas the series of services will extend over a period of two weeks. The procession of which we wrote was really the first of the second week's devotions.

It is learned with considerable regret that changes are being made among the navy medical staff stationed here which includes the transfer of Dr. B. G. Holtom to Virginia in next month. Dr. Holtom has without doubt won a wide popularity during his residence in St. Croix, as oculist, optician, and medical practitioner, and his successful handling of a large majority of cases, and the prompt and efficient manner characteristic of his attention to his business as a whole will be sadly missed, and long remembered by numerous grateful people in St. Croix who owe the recovery of their sight or the cure of ailments to his skilful and always ready help. It had been hoped that some exception would have been made to permit of the good doctor remaining among us a while longer and the suddenness of the news that he is to leave at such short notice has "knocked the wind out of our sails". We, as a people accustomed to experienced medical service, cannot but feel obligated to the Navy Department for the liberal consideration shown us in the number of medical men detailed for duty in St.
Croix, but it would be strange if we did not say that the system whereby the terms of these men run only a couple of years at the very most could be improved. For the first no professional man interested in his calling is encouraged to do his best and develop the utmost interest in his line when he knows beforehand that he can't accomplish enough to satisfy himself and those for whom he is to labor in the time allotted to him; next, as far as a doctor is concerned, however skilful he may be, it frequently requires time wherein to study out and become familiar with diseases peculiar to any particular place or people, and this is true of these tropical islands where medical treatment finds itself baffled without special ken in some cases; then there is this that many individuals and families suffer from complaints which take physicians years to treat successfully because of the time needed to become acquainted with the idiosyncracies in the different cases.

Obviously then we can not benefit by a change of physician every now and then, since he who is to help us starts from the outset without the opportunity of doing all he can, and must leave just when he is set and making good, and we the sufferers must forever be repeating and describing our derangements to new doctors who have to study us all through afresh and leave us when they have begun to help us. We are not essaying to criticize but it is only reasonable that since we are concerned we should give an opinion, believing as we do that it is based on sound reasoning, and may, who knows, be given attention, if possible, to the gain of all concerned.

Fortunately there is a capable resident physician in Christiansted, a native of whom the community may justly be proud. As a rule he is kept as busy as possible, and cannot be the family doctor for the whole island.

After having been closed for the last two weeks St. Mary's Hall will be opened tonight for the presentation of Nurse Majorie by Mary Miles Minter. We do not know the picture but understand that it meets the taste for lively yet sober and interesting features.

The Christiansted Theatre was well attended last night at the continuation of the serial Daredevil Jack which is growing more and more attractive, and is received with enthusiasm by the audience every time.

The work of repairing the landing place which was in a decadent shape for some time is proceeding satisfactorily under direction of the Public Works Department. Mr. Chr. Muller is supervising the work which is affording employment to a good many men who are kept cool most the time being compelled to stand waist-deep in the water practically all day.
