Real Motoring Comfort in the New Goodyear Red Tubes

The tubes and not the casings hold the air which cushions your car.

To do this they must keep on holding air unflinchingly. There must not be a weak spot in them. They must not be uncertain in their possibilities for long service. There must be no slow-leaking to lessen the effectiveness of the cushion for the car.

Have you had unfortunate experiences with porous tubes?

Goodyear RED Tubes are of laminated construction, that is, they are built up layer upon layer of the purest gun stock and other material in such a way that any leaking due to porosity is quite prevented.

Nor is there any leaking around the valve in a Goodyear RED Tube for the valve patch is vulcanized into the tube and not just stuck on as in the case of many inferior tubes.

Goodyear RED Tubes not only provide that comfort and service which you expect and are entitled to, but they are low in price—as low as ordinary tubes which you may be tempted to buy.

Why accept any tube of lesser quality than a Goodyear Tube when so much is at stake?
