is due at Frederiksted at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Vanishing Dagger closed last night with the theatre filled with a satisfied audience which was loud in its applause of the end which was just what everybody appreciated. Two reels of the Moonriders, the new serial, were shown at last night's show and made a very favourable impression, consisting of adventurous and romantic phases which the public has always shown a weakness for. Tonight there will be exhibited the famous film, "The Romance of Tarzan", which requires no recommendation, and for which it is understood that all available room in the theatre is being rapidly engaged.

Correspondence

The Editor of "St. Croix Avis".

Sir:

When Mr. Alexander Moorehead says in the "West End News" of 21st inst. that he has collected as well as paid out money for the Labor Union Savings Bank, he speaks the truth. He was authorized by the Treasurer Mr. A. de Chabert and myself to act for us in Frederiksted and its jurisdiction as he was the only member of the said board residing in that district.

Mr. O. C. Granady has been authorized to collect the outstandings in the capacity of an Attorney.

The following is a copy of the announcement which was duly put on record in the Recorder's Office in December 1918:
