THE MOVIES

Having read in the St. Thomas newspapers of the great success the grand serial "The Mystery Ship" met with over there, we join in asking our amusement manager if that "ship" will ever pass our way on a flying trip. One of the "stars" in the famous serial is detective John Shirley of "The Voice On The Wire," well known to theatre goers here for his daring exploits. Although we are glad for the five-part dramas now and again, we delight in the serials, especially those that exhibit true detective skill. The scientific methods of Craig Kennedy and others are still fresh in our memory. We feel sure Mr. Svendsen is alive to this matter and will see to it to the best of his ability. Success to the theatre.

Dear Mr. Yohansen:

Both myself and Krazy are sorry that you did not print the poem "when the role is called up yonder." Krazy had helped me to rite it as he is the poetical guy. He nearly cried when I red your letter to him in which you said that the "new" editor thought the poem above "normal" but that the censor could see enough to conclude that it was "rough on rats" and that you did not like to be hard on anyone whose behaviour seemed to be urged by periodical attacks of gout. If you want we will look at the rain gage and let you know how many lines of rain is falling all the time it rains and how many sick people there are in town to interest subscribers who may be also sick with gout and prevent these fellows kicking and hurting their foot like they do in the moovies. Daddy says he cannot see why people object to any change in the tenor of the Avis when there are so many changes for the better or worse now adays. He says where once people prominated in silk hats fellows stroll around in bathing suits. Of course we know that people must keep cool in these days; but hark! some of us may have our wives or those even dearer to us, our sweet-harts around at the time.

Till it rains,

Yours truly

JONNIE IGNATZ.
