

St. Croix Avis

76TH YEAR.

CHRISTIANSTED, V. I. U. S. A., TUESDAY 5TH JULY 1921.

No. 155.

THE ST. CROIX AVIS

is printed and published daily (Sundays and Holidays excepted) by G. Johansen at the Avis Office

TERMS:—50 cents monthly in advance.
2 cents per single copy.

Entered as second-class matter May 26th 1917 at the Post Office at Christiansted, St. Croix, V. I. of the U. S. A., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Contribution to this paper will be gladly received when the same deals with matters of general interest, and is accompanied with the author's name, as a guarantee of good faith. The editor cannot be responsible for the views of his correspondents nor does he necessarily endorse them

TELEGRAMS.

ST. CROIX STATION.

Henley, England June 29th.—Four days of boat racing opened here today under ideal weather conditions. Seventy-one crews and scullers were entered for the various events, 41 crews intending to compete in the three eight oared events. Holland and Norway were the only foreign countries to send competitors, all the other boats being manned by crews from British universities, public schools and rowing clubs.

London, June 29th.—The Prince of Wales is always doing unexpected things and yesterday he thoroughly enjoyed doing them at the big theatre garden party at the Royal Hospital grounds Chelsea. On his arrival he was mobbed by seemingly all the actors and actresses in London and many policemen and detectives were powerless to help him. "Give me a sporting chance", said the breathless Prince with hair ruffled and hat away. They gave him a sporting chance, the mobbing ceased and the Prince was then able to enter into the fun that was going on. He accepted an invitation to indulge in a ride on the roundabouts, and was soon enjoying himself, whirling round on a wooden horse to the latest jazz tune. There are now lots of people who are boasting that they have ridden with the King's son. There were 50 side-shows run by actors and actresses, and the Prince rushed from one to another in order to patronize as many as possible, mixing with the crowd and laughing and joining with the rest of them, but he refused to patronize the night club "on the ground that if once he started dancing he was afraid he would never stop." One of the most amusing incidents was the presentation of a doll to him by the dolly sisters, American dancers who have made a big success on the London stage.

Leipzig, June 29th. Lieut.-General Stenger and Major Crusius, the former commander of the 53rd German Infantry Brigade in 1914, was placed on trial before the German Supreme court here today on charges preferred by the French Government. More than 50 witnesses were summoned to testify during the trial. These were the first cases based upon French allegations to be brought before the court, accused persons tried heretofore being charged by the British Government of crimes during the war. General Stenger was alleged to have ordered that no French prisoners be taken, and Major Crusius was accused of having transmitted this order to the soldiers of the 53 brigade. The French Government was represented by a commission.

London, June 29th.—Lady Randolph Churchill died here today. She recently underwent an operation on her right foot, which was injured in a fall down a flight of stairs.

Wimbledon, June 29th.—Tilden will meet either B. C. Norton of South Africa, or Manuel Alonso of Spain for the British championship singles on turf courts.

New York, June 29th.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market with Porto Rico's still available at 4.00 for centrifugal. In refined, prices were unchanged at 5.20 to 5.30 for fine granulated, with a moderate inquiry reported.

Messina, Italy, June 29th.—The Volcano Stromboli, on Stromboli island, off the north coast of Sicily, burst into wild activity last night and terror filled the island. The molten rocks and sulphurous gases pouring from the crater, it is feared, may spell impending doom to the panic stricken inhabitants. The people frenzied by the uncanny behaviour of the volcano during the past three days, are congregating on the shores, preparing for flight, but waiting in the hope that the volcano will subside.

London, June 29th.—Making a plea for continued Anglo-American friendship in speaking before the English Speaking Union yesterday, Mr. Winston Churchill declared "the joint advance of British, Australian, and American troops in France on July 4th 1918, raised an impassible barrier to future quarrels between English speaking peoples. We must never hesitate in our exertions to counteract the malicious and false-hearted people, who while professing to be friends of the British empire on one hand and of the United States on the other, are endeavouring to create divergencies between the two countries".

Constantinople, June 29th.—A Turco-Bolshevik plot of vast proportions has been discovered by the Allied authorities here, it was announced today. Numerous arrests have been made, including the alleged ringleader of the movement a man named Augenblick.

Washington, June 29th.—It is "wholly desirable" to have the expression of a favourable opinion on the part of Congress, relating to world disarmament and "it would seem ample, if it should be expressed in the broadest and most general terms" Mr. Harding wrote today to representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican Leader in the House. "I am vastly more concerned with the favourable attitude of Congress on this question, than I am as to the form of expressing that attitude." "You may be sure that the executive will be ready to give every consideration to such expression as the members of the two Houses of Congress find themselves disposed to make.

Ottawa, June 29th.—Marshall Fayolle in the name of France, this afternoon presented to the Canadian people, Rodin's bust "La France Reconnaisante" (grateful France). The ceremony took place in the Railway Committee room of the House of Commons.

London, June 30th.—The feature of all the speeches at the Imperial Conference, which continued the discussion of the Anglo-Japanese alliance today, was the desire to promote cordial relations between Great Britain and the United States. There also was practical unanimity in favour of a conference of the chiefly interested in the Pacific, to discuss disarmament, spheres of influence and all matters affecting their interests. The Premiers of the Overseas Dominions gave their views freely and frankly the Canadian Premier, who opposes the alliance; insisted that there should be no act that might possibly affect the good relations between the United States and Great Britain. He expressed admiration for the idea of international coop-

(Continued on 4th page.)