SYNOPSIS:

Pearl recover the plan, and gives it to her father, but it is stolen from him by one T. O. Adams, enrolled as his orderly.

On the frontier, Bolero, ally of the enemy alliance, made Pearl and Adams his prisoners. They escapes, and the plan, still in Adams' possession, is recovered by Major Trent, who, entrusted to carry it to Washington, is held up by the silent Menace, and it is taken from him. A "double" of the silent menace gives battle. During the struggle Pearl secures the plan and escapes.

New York, Jany. 4th.—Canadian representatives of federal sugar refining estimate there is sufficient cane available in Cuba to make a crop of 461,000 tons of sugar during the 1920 21 season.

London, Jany. 4th.—The Times today complains that the committee to consider Great Britain's future naval construction policy consists of one sailors, Admiral Beatty, and five politicians, Messrs. Bonar Law, Winston Churchill, Walter Long, Sir Eric Geddes and Sir Robert Horne. While admitting that the last five are ministers, three of whom have held high office at the Admiralty, the Times contends that their practical acquaintance with naval equipment is limited and that they have many other calls upon their time. Sir Percy Scott, asked to give evidence before the committee is reported as saying: "I have to be treated as an incompetent fool, and am not going to muzzle myself by attending the meetings".

Washington, Jany. 4th.—The new policy of terror abroad, especially in nearby countries, has been decided upon by the Russian Soviet, according to advices from Moscow. Lenine is quoted as saying in a proclamation to the Commune committees of Europe that it is absolutely indispensable to keep the Bourgeois enemy busy with internal trouble, in order that they cannot injure Soviet Russia. Great strikes should be organized throughout the world, and agitation for the re-establishment of commercial rslations with Russia be increased. In order to fight famine and attack capitalism soiidly throughout the universe these things should be done. Lenine is further quoted as saying that other nations plan to fight Soviet Russia by the use of spies seeking to enter Russia with the apparent purpose of organizing revolts against the Soviet.

Geneva, Jan. 4th.—[illegible], President of the Assembly of the League of Nations, received [illegible] today from Mr. Lloyd George [illegible] ying a suggestion as to further course to be taken by President Wilson on the question of mediation between the Turkish Nationalists and the Armenians. Mr. Lloyd George in his message suggested that the President cable his instructions on the mediation question direct to the American High Commissioner in Constantinople. Earl Curzon said in transmitting the message for the Prime Minister, that this course had been recommended by the British representatives at Constantinople. The message suggested further that the American commissioner would act immediately in concert with his colleagues there. The correspondence, in dealing with conditions which make the situation extremely complicated one for the meditators alludes to the report that a treaty of peace had been concluded between the present Armenian Govt. and the nationalists. This Govt. is not of the same complexion as that with which the Allies have had their dealings, it having been formed under the stress of Bolshevik and Turkish pressure, believedly in cooperation, its formation virtually placing Armenia under the control of Soviet Russia, in notifying the League of Nations last month that he had designated Mr. Henry Morgenthau as his representative in the proposed mediation between the Armenians and the Turkish nationalists, President Wilson said he would await advices from the Council of the League Nations as to the avenues through which his proffer should be conveyed and the parties with whom his representatives could meet in contact.
