H. V. HUGHENS,
Chief Sanitation Officer.
St. Croix.

We have been requested to mention that the Gilmore actors will extend their performance this evening, presenting new feats, etc. See programme in this issue.

The Creole sailed for St. Thomas this morning at 8 o'clock with the regular mails, and passengers.

Recently a movement started in the surrounding district of Cordova among the wealthier people, to go without hats and also to wear sandals made of hemp in protest against high prices, is spreading throughout southern Spain. Hundreds have joined the silent demonstration, which is causing considerable perturbation among tradesmen.—Reprinted in the St. Thomas Mail Notes, 9th June.

We learn that Estate Thomas and Michelsen store have been bought by Mr. A. H. Lockhart, the former for $60,000 and the latter for $9,000.—St. Thomas Bulletin, June 14th.

This morning a little before 2 o'clock the town was startled by the incessant ringing of bells, denoting fire. Upon investigation, the scene of the conflagration was found to be the store-room of the Bay Rum Establishment of Messrs D. O. Bornn & Sons, situated at the rear of the main building, and facing the water-front, in a south-westerly direction. In this store room, were stored casks of bay rum, and alcohol, etc., valued at several hundred dollars.

The fire was first discovered by some of our young gentry returning home from a dance, who upon the strong scent of burning wood reaching their nostrils, started an investigation with the already known results.

Shortly after the first clanging of the bells, the Fire Brigade with their two Ford fire-engines, and a detachment of marines under the command of Captain Lowell, also with an engine were on the scene; while sub-chaser No. 72, [?] under command of Lieutenant Newell, U. S. N. hauled alongside the wharf, and with hydraulic pumps assisted in the fighting of the flames. Willing hands from among the people also rendered good an efficient service. The building whose roof has caved in and whose massive and sheathed doors have been burnt to cinders is but a smouldering mass of ruins, with jets of flame from the burning debris spurting forth, hither and thither, now and anon. Both the stock and building, we are glad to say, are insured, the former with the Sun Insurance Company, and the latter with the Palatine Insurance Company.

Thanks to the energy displayed by all concerned, as well as to the nature of the building destroyed, the fire was kept well within bounds, and further danger
