reservations, two of them proposed by the Foreign Committee, were voted down today, and none were adopted.

London, Nov. 18th.—A Bill embodying the Cabinet Committee report on Ireland is nearly ready and will be presented in the House Commons in about a fortnight, says the "Daily Mail". It adds that the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Ian Macpherson, has told friends that the scheme for two legislatures with a Supreme Central Senate has been unanimously approved by the Committee and accepted by the Cabinet, and that the recent statement that the Committee had presented majority and minority reports was untrue.

London, Nov. 17th.—It would be difficult to exaggerate the gravity of the international situation, said Lord Robert Cecil, in the House of Commons today, while the Govt's Russian policy was under debate. It was impossible to ignore either the serious news from the United States, he said, in reference to the action of the Senate on the German Peace Treaty. He did not desire to express an opinion on the legitimacy of the Senate's action from the American viewpoint he declared, but the reservations that had been provisionally accepted amounted almost to the repudiation of the Covenant and the repudiation of the Covenant meant the repudiation of the Treaty. "At the best nothing is to be expected by a long period of negotiations and the possibility of further rejection, when the negotiations are concluded. We desire American cooperation, but if the United States decided not to share in this great international effort, we must go on and the burden would be the greater upon us and the other nations."

Washington, Nov. 18th. For the first time since his return to Washington on September 28th from his western tour which was cut short by a sudden attack of illness, President Wilson yesterday went outside of the White House. He was rolled into the grounds on a wheelchair and for more than an hour enjoyed the fresh air and the sunshine.
