"THE SAGE HEN"

A Heart-gripping, Thrilling Western Story of a Mother's Supreme Sacrifice.

Stoned Out Of The Village - Because she lived alone with her baby son and took no one into her confidence, Jane Croft was looked upon by the people of Silver Crook as a thing unclean and indecent. The "Sage Hen", they called her: drove her, with sticks and stones, from the village.

WHO SINS MOST - THE WOMAN WHO ERRS OR THOSE WHO STONE HER?

If you admire a woman's lone fight against narrow minds and sharp tongues then come and see "The Sage Hen".

Like A Tigress She Fights When Her Loved Ones Are Attacked.

Deep down in every woman's soul is her feeling for her home, her honor, her child. Be she an outcast, with the stigma of an "unclean thing" to her name, this unquenchable spark of glorious motherhood is alert to burst in flame. In the breast of "The Sage Hen" was the throbbing heart of the Eternal Mother. But they knew not what they did when they stoned her, for she was the whitest, gamest and cleanest among them.

Gladys Brockwell as "The Sage Hen" is a heroic, tragic figure who will clutch your heart and make it beat like a speedometer. The play rises to heights of unsurpassed emotion. It grips. It sways. It holds you spell bound. It is like a swelling symphony of heart-pulling music, whose unforgettable melody is MOTHER-LOVE.

It is the greatest Compliment to All Mothers.

understood to be fixed for May 11 and 12th. It is undoubtedly gratifying to find the electorate developing some interest in their political affairs and the campaign promises to be a lively one with nominees cropping up here and there all along. So far as Christiansted Town is concerned there is no doubt that Dr. Canegata should and will be returned, in all probability unopposed. Despite the fact that the doctor is a professional man always very busy, he has readily and conscientiously given his time to the duties imposed on him by the electorate and without any flattery it may be said of him that he has discharged those duties, often unpleasant ones, creditably. In the present campaign, we are, therefore, not considering Dr. Canegata so much since his re-election is a warranted and foregone conclusion. The country districts leave some field for review and consideration. Mr. Jessen who had not had any political career prior to his now expiring term, has displayed a bearing that has won the admiration of his constituents and there is no talk but to put him back as a good man who deserves further chance. We have not heard much in regard to the others; Mr. Berg is understood to be opposing Mr. Nelthropp, and Mr. Jackson Mr. Coulter. It is understood that those gentlemen are not interested in running again. However, there is time in which the candidates elect may give the public some enlightenment as regards their platforms.

The Graduating Exercises of the Christiansted Commercial Night School of which Mr. W. Ethelbert Messer is Principal were held last night in the Junior High School Building of this town. The occasion opened with an interesting and complete account of the work of the class by Mr. Messer who thereafter called upon Cecil Phaire to read his message of welcome which was written in shorthand upon a blackboard. This accomplished, the Assistant School Director delivered an appropriate address and proceeded to distribute the diplomas. Messrs. Geo. Jackson and Thos. Ash then spoke some words of encouragement to the class, congratulating them upon their attainments and urging the members to persevere in their studies. Mr. Messer now expressed his thanks to those present, his remarks being written in short hand upon a black board and read by Oliver Hall. Eleven members received their diplomas. We desire to congratulate the teacher and pupils in their commendable work, also the Assistant School Director who has backed it up.

1 line of rain was measured at the Fort this morning.

OFFICIAL NOTES.

The meeting of the Colonial Council was postponed, by the Governor, on account of a temporary breakdown in the machinery of the Grebe which was to have brought over a representative of Government. The postponement of the
