

fleet was off Vigo recently, says the "Times". Aeroplanes used to ascend from the "Furious" during the war, but were unable to make a landing on the vessel again. This has now been successfully accomplished.

London, April 6th.—An airship which could fly, and in fact, float and submerge, is in the judgement of Sir James Partescue-Flannery, M. P., no impossible dream of the future. This statement is quoted from a speech made by him at a banquet held recently by the society of consulting marine and engineers and ship surveyors, of which Sir James is the President. He added that some of those present might live to see this materialize.
