Pinched or Flattened, This Hose Returns to Shape

Goodyear Monterey Air Hose is scientifically designed and made to defy permanent distortion. Its body is of stout plies of rubber-impregnated canvas, sufficiently resilient to withstand pulsation without internal wear. And, though pinched or flattened, Goodyear Monterey Air Hose returns to full shape when released.

This efficient hose is armored with a cover of rough, thick compound that protects it against abrasions when dragged over steel work, or rock piles. This cover is also a protection against all weathers when the hose is used outdoors.

The tube of Goodyear Monterey Air Hose is made to withstand the deteriorating action of oil that may come through the compressor. This feature alone makes Goodyear Air Hose the logical choice for tools that are lubricated through the line.
