"The Gray Ghost"

Episode No. 10:

"Shadows"

Episode No. 11:

"The Flaming Meteor".

Episode No. 12:

"The Poisoned Ring".

"The Gray Ghost's" body was dead, shot—but his "Ghost" was still alive, indeed very much alive, even so much that it appeared at several different places at the same time.

If your nerves are not of the strongest kind, then better don't see this performance, as these episodes are of the most exciting ever exhibited in this theatre.

In order to get the seats you want, please order your tickets To-day instead of tomorrow, as all reserved seats are sold out in every performance.

ADMISSION:

Complaints are general as to shortages of merchandise alleged as shipped from different wholesale houses in New York. It has reached the extent where, to all accounts, hardly a single box of goods is received with contents intact and some merchants by recent importations report up to $200 worth of merchandise missing from a single case. Of course the S. S. Company is held responsible and claims

IT is hereby made known that, the St. Croix Power Plant will only countenance wirings Etc. Etc. done by its electrician and, reserves the rights to refuse or discontinue the supply of current to the consumer who acts contrary to the above.

filed by consignees are paid, but in some instances it is exceedingly doubtful that the losses can be ascribed to depredations aboard ship judging by the condition of the packages which bear no signs of having been tampered with. Some wholesale theft must be going on in or around those big packing houses, but however that may be, it certainly is discouraging to take the trouble to import things, wait months to get them and finally receive empty boxes.

There is a sugar sale contest in town it would appear. Prices are vying hard between the different groceries and up to the present as low as 17 cents is quoted for raw sugar for which the Food Commission is still holding in force its price of 24 cents a pound. The Food Commission has always been a spectacle of criticism, but this sugar business beats all and makes the Food Commission look as it were poking fun at itself. The consumer naturally is simply delighted and is buying his sugar in small quantities so as not to be overstocked when the price settles down to 7c. a pound.

It is our pleasure to report continued rainfall practically all day yesterday and through the night.

According to understanding that the S. S. Guiana sailed from New York on the 17th., that boat is looked for in St. Thomas tomorrow 23rd., and in Frederiksted on Friday.

The mail-schooner Creole has not yet shown up today. The weather looked somewhat threatening last night and probably Capt. George thought a cyclone was coming and did not sail from St. Thomas. There is a favorable light breeze on this a. m. and if on her way the Creole may arrive later.

The s. s. "Korona" for New York is due at Frederiksted at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

CORRECTION.

In Monday's Avis news item of the s. s. Lake Ledan, please read "130 tons of cargo for Frederiksted" instead of "160."

Dear Sir:-

With reference to that twaddle from Mr. P. K. G. etc., Tutein in your issue of today, kindly afford me space to ask that bombastic scribbler how much "lumber", "rope", "paint" and "paint-oil" he has bought for use in the fishing trade in the last five years.

Yours truly

DIVES.

Trinidad, Sept. 19th.—H. R. Highness "at home" on the "Renown" last night from 9 o'clock until midnight. The invited guests numbering some five hundred were conveyed from shore to the battle-cruiser in local steamers. After dining quietly at Govt. House the Prince went off and received his guests on the after-deck which had been cleared for dancing. Unfortunately heavy rain interfered with the dancing and the guests were entertained below. Tonight the Prince will transfer to the "Calcutta" and leave for Demerara, returning to Trinidad on Thursday.

Christiania, Norway, Sept. 17th.—M. Kameneff, President of the Moscow Soviet, who is on his way from London to Moscow is quoted by the "Social Demokraten" as saying that the fact
