LOCAL.

The St. Croix Sugar Factory issues notice that dividends of 30% will be paid to shareholders. It is understood that since the campaign of 1916/17 the concern has been unable to declare any owing to the poor crops. This has been an unusually satisfactory year for all hands.

The special concert by the Navy Band last night was attended by a large crowd and accorded hearty applauses for the excellent rendition of some splendid selections. Unfortunately, however, the electric light played the old trick of going out at an inopportune time and left bandstand and everywhere around in solemn darkness when about three or four pieces had been disposed of, and the band had to adjourn playing the national anthem by air. It was a great disappointment to the public and if possible the band is very kindly invited to repeat last night's programme some afternoon this week.

According to advice published by the Cable Co. here, the S. S. Korona which was to have arrived in Frederiksted yesterday morning will leave Antigua for St. Kitts tonight and is therefore not calculated to get here before Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. See notice concerning closing of mails.

The Schnr. Virginia arrived at Frederiksted at about 5 p. m. yesterday.

TELEGRAM

ST. CROIX STATION.

London, Dec. 8th.—Discussing the visit of the Prince of Wales to the city yesterday, the "Times" remarks, that it is almost a year since he spoke at the Mansion House after his return from Canada. The burden of his speech at that time was the change the war had made in the mutual relations between the various states of the empire, and he insisted that the old country must understand the ideals and aspirations of the dominions. These truths, says the Times, have made their way into the consciousness of the British people during the past year, but they are not yet understood here in their full significance, even by some leading statesmen of these islands, as witness the antiquated ideas of what dominion status means, which have been evident in recent contributions to the Irish question. The Prince's final words yesterday were: The Dominions want population. We have population to spare, but a purely business method of emigration is no good nowadays. Flaming prospectuses will not draw emigration steadily from this country. What is wanted is to plan human cooperation. We should not feel that we are populating places that will be lost to us, and they on their side should
