LOCAL.

Attention of readers and especially of those interested in school work, and progress among the educational institutions in this island, is invited to a replete programme for an entertainment in the Christiansted Theatre by the pupils of the Christiansted Junior High School this evening. It is understood that His Excellency the Governor who is expected on the "Vixen" today will grace the occasion with his presence, and, as will be seen in the programme published on this page, will deliver an address in acceptance of a portrait of President Harding, the presentation of which constitutes one of the events of the evening. It is hoped that a representative gathering will avail of this opportunity to show incentive and appreciation of the efforts of the Department of Education which is one of the most, if not the most important branch of Government service we have, and one which has hard work alway before it for the good of the people of this island.

The S. S. Guiana from New York via St. Thomas arrived at Frederiksted yesterday afternoon with passengers, cargo, and mail, for Frederiksted 31 sacks, and for Christiansted 53 which were received and delivered here last night. A list of the passengers follows: FROM NEW YORK: Mrs. B. Adams and 2 children, Miss M. Christiansen, Margaret Finlay, Mrs. T. Gaffney, Mrs. M. Golden, Mr. W. Hodge, Mr. Casper Holstein, Mrs. G. Lewis, Miss G. Moltke, Mrs. E. Nemcik, Miss E. Nielsen, Miss L. Ovesen, Miss D. Paulsen, Mr. and Mrs. Chr. Ringberg, and 2 children, Mrs. H. R. Scott, and Miss E. Wilkerson. FROM ST. THOMAS:—Miss J. Francis, Mrs. Lucille Fredericks, Mr. W. J. Georges, Mr. W. Hill, Miss E. Hodge, Mrs. F. Lentz and infant, Mr. Philip Marshall, Miss S. Meade, Judge Noll, Mrs. Protheroe, baby and nurse, Judge D. W. Williams. IN TRANSIT:—120 steerage, and deck passengers.

The Raporel S/S El Monte docked at this port yesterday and will sail for the Islands this afternoon. Mails close as per notice at the post office at 12 m.

The trees on the public highways, notably the centre line and north side roads badly need trimming, in many places boughs and branches overhanging and drooping to the middle of the road, tops of automobiles and other covered vehicles being scratched thereby.

The Murder Case.

Preliminary Hearing of People vs. George Jemmott.

(Concluded from yesterday's Avis.)

The Court now proceeded to take the evidence.

The first witness called was Mr. Anselmo Larsen, who on being sworn, testified that on the morning of the 14th inst. after leaving the Post Office he entered the yard wherein was situated the house in which the deceased was residing. It was his intention to pay a visit to the deceased who was his fiancée.

On approaching the house, while midway the yard, he heard a report of a gunshot. He exclaimed, "My God, who is shooting themselves." He came to a halt and stood up. Shortly after he saw accused Jemmott going from behind the house moving in a southerly direction, in a running attitude.

(Here the witness gave a demonstration to the Court as to the exact attitude of accused at the time he saw him moving southwards from the house.)

On taking sight of the witness the accused drew himself up and came to a halt. He, the accused, then turned back entered the house from the back window and sang out "Larsen man, come and see this."

Then the witness turned back and went towards the front door. When he got there accused opened the cloth screened door for him. On looking in, witness saw the young woman there with the wound on the left side of the head.

She was sitting in a reclining position, with the head bent slightly to the right, while the blood was gushing from the wound.

Her hands were in her lap; pieces of cloth for clothes making were around her on the floor.

A machine was in front of her. All this the witness testified he saw as he looked in from the door.

He was scared and frightened at the sight and hesitated in approaching, when the accused asked him to go to call his wife.

Witness then hurried across the street to Miss Nellie Benjamin's shop where Jemmott's wife was and told her that her sister was at the house bleeding. She got amazed and ran over, going on in front of the witness. As she reached the door and witness was about midway in the yard Jemmott requested him to call the Doctor.

Witness left the yard to go in search of the Doctor. Jemmott and his wife remained in the room where the girl lay. Soon after witness returned with the Doctor. He went into the room. The young woman was taken immediately to the Hospital on the stretcher under directions from the Doctor.
